Observing Labor Day.

Organized Workmen Make a Grand Showing.

THOUSANDS MARCH THE STREETS

Chicago Leads the List With Fifty Thousand People in Line, the Largest Ever Witnessed in That City—Big Parades in Other Cities.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—The wage workers of this city who have organized for self-protection and the betterment of their condition have been instrumental in making yesterday a memorable one in the history of labor. Not less than 50,000 of them celebrated the day which has been set apart as a holiday by the laboring classes of the country. Business was generally suspended; factories, workshops and industries of all kinds took a rest, and the streets were crowded with holiday keepers and their wives and children.

The parade, which was under the auspices of the trades and labor assemblies, was one of the largest ever seen in this city, fully 50,000 people being in line. As early as 8 o'clock members of the various organizations began to gather on the lake front, the head of the column resting on Michigan avenue, the fifth on the lake shore, and the others in readiness between. Charles Officer was chief marshal, with John Macsin and Louis Ziegler as aides. Promptly at 11 o'clock the signal was given and the great procession moved.

There was also a separate parade under the auspices of the central council of the Knights of Labor, in which several thousand knights participated.

In Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 2.—Labor Day was observed in a becoming manner in this city, many factories and wholesale houses closing in order that their employes might enjoy the day. The weather was clear and pleasant. At 11 o'clock about 6,000 members of different trades unions formed in procession, and after parading the principle streets of the business section of the city, marched to the Bellevue house where the day was spent in picnicing, games, and in listening to speeches by Representative Green, the author of the labor law in this state. Nothing but American flags were carried in the procession.

In New York.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Two separate labor parades were the peculiar feature that marked Labor Day in this city. One was under the auspices of the Federation of Labor and the other under that of the Central Labor union.

In Brooklyn all business was suspended. The various labor organizations made a parade early in the day and were reviewed by Acting Mayor McCarthy and the grand marshal. In the afternoon a grand festival was held at Ridgewood and High Ground park.

In Boston.

BOSTON, Sept. 2.—The labor organizations in and around Boston celebrated Labor Day in the same general manner as in previous years. The day is a legal holiday and all business, including the editions of the evening papers, was suspended. In this city the parade was the largest that has ever been seen on this day, the divided councils that prevailed in former years having united their forces in one grand procession in which 10,000 participated.

In Pittsburg.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 2.—Labor Day was generally observed here. All the banks, factories and mills and many business houses were closed. The day was bright and nearly 30,000 workmen, representing all the trades in the city, took part in the parade.

Similar demonstrations were held at Jeannette, Greensburg and other surrounding towns.

In Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 2.—Labor day was celebrated by an enthusiastic demonstration. Mayor Peck's proclamation suggesting a general holiday for all who desire to participate was very generously responded to. Nearly 10,000 working men were in line in the parade.

In Columbus, O.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 2.—Labor day was elaborately observed here. There was an immense parade of the labor organizations, followed by appropriate exercises. All the state offices and a majority of the private houses were closed.

GASOLINE STOVE EXPLODED.

Four Firemen Seriously Burned in St. Paul, Minnesota.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Sept. 2.—At 6:15 yesterday morning a fire was ignited in a kitchen of a house on Hamson street, where a gasoline stove was used, and the department called to put it out. While the firemen were in the room endeavoring to smother the spreading of the flames, the gasoline stove exploded and seriously burned four of the firemen.

Lieut. Hynes was badly burned, and will probably die.

Second Assistant Cook burned; will probably be disfigured for life.

Truckman McArthur and Capt. Conway slightly burned and bruised.

Oil Explosion.

READING, Pa., Sept. 2.—By the explosion of two barrels of oil in the hardware store of Bickley, Haff & Company, yesterday fire was started which damaged the building and stock to the extent of $50,000. Two firemen were badly burned.

Arm Broken in a Fall.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Sept. 2.—While walking about the grounds of his residence at Woodbridge yesterday, Donald G. Mitchell, better known as "J. K. Marvel," fell and broke his arm.

A GREAT SCHEME.

Col. Caspar's Proposed Plan of Producing Showers of Rain.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Col. D. T. Caspar, who has been connected with the signal service since its foundation, early in the seventies, is at present stopping in this city. Talking of the service, he said:

"A curious little clause was tacked on to the appropriation bill while it was before the senate, and went through the legislative mill innocently enough and is now a law. It provides that, under the direction of the forestry division of the department of agriculture, $2,000 shall be expended on experiments in the artificial production of rainfall.

"There are those who are disposed to make merry over this provision of the appropriation bill, but really there is nothing so very absurd about it. No doubt there is plenty of moisture in the atmosphere at all times, if only it could be gathered in the right place and be made to fall upon the earth. Man has accomplished as difficult things as that in the realm of applied science. Then why not that? It is not contemplated, however, so produce rainfall by the slow growth of forests in the arid regions. The success of that method is still disputed. Under the new law it is proposed to find out whether rainfall can be produced by electricity, dynamite explosions or other mechanical agencies.

"Taking the cue from the fact that heavy cannonading on a battlefield or a Fourth of July celebration is followed by copious rains, the experimenters will work accordingly. The process of burning powder to produce rain has hitherto been too expensive to warrant its general use, but possibly cheaper explosives will be found. It has been proposed among other things to attach twenty-five pounds of dynamite to a small balloon and then send a flock of such balloons in the air with lighted fuses attached. At any rate," concluded the colonel, "one way or the other the arid lands of this country are bound to be brought under splendid cultivation sooner or later. They comprise some of the most fertile soil on earth."

ARKANSAS ELECTION.

Democrats Claim the State By Thirty Thousand Majority.

LITTLE ROCK, Sept. 2.—The state election passed off quietly so far as known to this hour. There was no trouble here. Partial returns and estimates received from thirty of the seventy-five counties in the state indicate an increased majority for Governor Eagle and the Democratic state ticket over two years ago, when his majority was 15,000. The Democrats claim the state by from 25,000 to 30,000 majority.

In the Third ward and several townships in this county, double polling places were established owing to a charge that the county judge violated the law in appointing judges of elections. The county is close and the result is doubtful.

Building Saved, but Three Lives Lost.

MAYNARD, Mass., Sept. 2.—Fire yesterday burned the carpenter shop and dwelling house of Nathaniel Hemingway at Milwood. Loss $2,000. Mr. Hemingway, while trying to save some property, was probably fatally burned. The chemical engine, while on the way to the fire, was struck by a train at Faulkner street station and the driver, George Phillips, instantly killed, while Samuel Kingston, third assistant engineer of the fire department, had a portion of one foot cut and otherwise injured. The engine was badly damaged.

Held a Hundred Pawn Tickets.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 2.—John Temple and William Travis were arrested here last night by a Pittsburg detective while attempting to sell a watch. When searched they had in their possession over one hundred pawn tickets from brokers in New York, Detroit and Pittsburg, calling for watches, diamonds and other jewelry. One ticket from a New York broker called for $450. They were held for examination.

Double Murder and Suicide.

STOCKTON, Cal., Sept. 2.—News reaches here from West Point, a mining town in Calavers county, of a probable double murder and suicide in that place on Friday night last. A man named Gallagher fatally shot his wife, killed his son and then committed suicide. Gallagher had been drinking heavily of late and committed the crime because of his wife's refusal to give him money to continue his debauch.

A Lonely Stranger.

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Sept. 2.—A strangely-dressed unknown man is held in the city lockup as a vagrant. He appears perfectly sane, but for four days no one has been able to understand his language or make himself understood to the stranger. He has been addressed in every tongue that any one in this section can speak, but all to no purpose. The man seems greatly depressed.

Corn Cutters Strike.

TUSCOLA, Ill., Sept. 2.—More than 1,000 brown corn cutters in Coles and Douglass counties left the fields yesterday and refused to work unless paid a twenty-five cents advance. Between 300 and 400 at Arcola joined in the strike. As the crop is heavy and the time short for harvesting the growers in many cases will be compelled to pay the advance demanded.

Where is Hale?

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—The fall term of the court of queen's bench was opened here yesterday. The case against Col. Hale for shooting Lieutenant Law, Cowies, from Cleveland last year, was to have come up but Hale did not put in an appearance and a bench warrant was ordered to be issued against him.

Illinois' Third District.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—Allen C. Durborow was nominated for congress by the Democrats of the Third Illinois district yesterday.

Trade Union Congress

It is Enthusiastically Opened in Liverpool.

AN IMPORTANT GATHERING.

The Congress is the Largest of the Kind Ever Held—Labor Leaders all Over Europe Keeping Watch Over Its Deliberations—Other Foreign News.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The opening of the trades unions' congress at Liverpool yesterday was marked by the greatest enthusiasm. The prominent labor agitators—Burns, Mann, Tillett and others—were wildly applauded. In the course of his address, John Burns warned the congress that it was necessary to keep the labor movement out of politics. As it was essentially an economic question and had nothing to do with Liberalism or Conservatism as such.

The congress is by far the largest and most important of the kind ever held. The steady and rapid growth of trade unionism, its importance to all men who labor in large bodies, the victories it has won for its supporters, all combine to make the present meeting significant, as much depends upon its decisions and decrees. Employers of labor are keeping as anxious a watch over the deliberations of the body as the workmen who are represented in it by delegates.

While labor has been tending toward more and more perfect organizations, capital has also been concentrating in syndicates and combinations, and its difficult to predict how much further the two movements can be pushed without reaching a point of collision or deadlock. The Socialists emphasize this difficulty, and their partisians in the congress are ready to argue that, dispite its apparent success, trade unionism is but a temporary expedient, which will ultimably be circumvented by the capitalist employers who are in a position to outline the employes when it comes to a final struggle.

The Socialists therefore claim that nothing short of a radical change in the wage system will effect a permanent uplifting of the masses to a condition of reasonable comfort. But the Socialists are in a hopeless minority in the congress, and nothing revolutionary is likely to come of the meeting.

The London dockers and gas workers, the Liverpool wood cutters, lightermen and leather workers are represented now for the first time in a general labor conference.

Among the most prominent representatives of labor present are Messrs. Broadhurst, Burt and John Wilson, members of parliament, John Burns, Thomas Mann, Ben. Pickard, Clem Edwards, Hayden Saunders and George Shipton. Lady Wilky, Beatrice Patter and Miss Routledge, secretery of the Womans' Trades Council, are looking after the womens interest.

The program of the congress is:

First—Employers liability bill.

Second—Certificates of competency for men in charge of steam engines and boilers.

Third—The desirability of increasing the number of factory and workshop inspectors.

Fourth—Public contracts and fair wages.

Fifth—The right of relatives of deceased miners to be represented at coroners' inquests.

Sixth—Co-operation and its relation to trades unionism.

Seventh—Representation of labor in parliament.

Eighth—Eight-hour day.

The discussion on the last named question will probably be exceedingly animated as its advocates and opposers are nearly equal, most of the new unions favoring the limitation of working hours by legislation, while the older and more conservative unions have instructed their delegates to oppose such a view at present. The election of a new secretary of the parliamentary labor committee will also arouse a hard struggle during the meeting.

The congress is held in Hope hall. The mayor of Liverpool welcomed the delegates and all the city officers are exerting themselves to make everything pleasant for their guests. The morning's session was largely devoted to the reading of annual reports by the president, Wm. Watkins, who is general secretary of the Carpenters' and Joiners' union, and by the secretary, Joseph Goodman, who is also secretary of the Liverpool trade's council. The afternoon and evening were devoted to excursions and sightseeing.

Flood-in the Tyrol.

BERNE, Sept. 2.—Telegrams concerning the flood area is much greater than it was in 1888, and the damage has been immense, although as yet but two human lives have been lost. So far as is known all railroad travel through the afflicted districts is stopped. Stone dams have been broken down and partially carried away. Those people who still remain in the neighborhood live in upper stories of the houses, while many have even been driven to the roofs. Help has been asked and is readily extended from every quarter in the shape of money and clothing.

Wreck Caused by a Landslide.

BERNE, Sept. 2.—A fatal railroad collision, caused by a landslide, occurred yesterday near the mouth of the St. Gothard tunnel, where a passenger train ran into a mass of earth which covered the track. A guard was killed and several others on that train were injured. The line is now clear.

Destructive Fires in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 2.—The various recent fires in Russia which are estimated to have destroyed property valued at over 500,000 roubles, are attributable to the intensely hot weather, the country being in a parched condition.

Armenians to Be Murdered.

VIENNA, Sept. 2.—It is learned that the Kurds are preparing to massacre the Armenians living on the frontier, the pretext is that the intended victims contemplated passing into Turkish territory.

Train Derailed.

PARIS, Sept. 2.—A train was derailed yesterday near Arrens, in the department of Crouse. Seventeen carriages were wrecked and several persons killed and injured.

Eighty Miners Suffocated.

VIENNA, Sept. 2.—There was an explosion yesterday in a mine at Borysiav, in Galicia. Eighty miners were suffocated.

BLUE SUNDAY AT WHEELING.

Law and Order Headquarters Mobbed. Overdoing the Business.

WHEELING, W. Va., Sept. 2.—The Law and Order league Sunday inaugurated a wholesale enforcement of the Sunday laws. Every saloon in the city was closed. Not a cigar, glass of soda water or dish of ice cream could be purchased in any part of the town, and nothing but necessary medicines could be bought at the drug stores. The ice wagons were not run and great inconvenience was felt.

Sunday night the affair reached a climax when a mob of men and boys stormed the Law and Order headquarters. President Watkins was struck twice and badly hurt. Outside of the Law and Order people the community is generally disgusted with this enforcement of the blue laws, and it is predicted that the reform will fall by the weight of its odiousness in not stopping with the closing of the liquor saloons.

Had the movement stopped there, public sentiment would have sustained it, but owing to the extreme measures taken, there was a revulsion of feeling throughout the city. The next move, it is said, will be on the newspapers. Even the news dealers remained closed, and Sunday papers were delivered only to regular subscribers.

KENTUCKY MILITIA.

They Have Had Some Active Work in Perry County.

HAZARD, Ky., Sept. 2.—Lieut. Bonta and three soldiers have returned from a lively raid in search of several outlaws that remained yet uncaptured. Bad Tom Smith, one of the murderers of Joseph Eversole, is yet at large, with no clew as to where he is. Four prisoners were brought back by Lieut. Bonta.

The detachment in charge of Lieut. Bonta was fired upon, and Sergt. Fred. Gordon, of the Johnson guards, was seriously injured by receiving a ball in the calf of his left leg. The troops returned fire, but it is not known whetner anybody was killed in the attacking party.

The troops have left Hazard and several outlaws yet remain uncaught. Judge Lilly refused to allow bail in any of the murder cases, and twenty-three men have been taken to the Clark county jail at Winchester.

A committee was appointed to issue an appeal to all the labor bodies in the province, asking for their financial aid for the strikers. Considerable money has already been contributed.

House Proceedings.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—In the house yesterday Mr. Cooper, of Indiana, offered a resolution discharging Representative Smyser, of Ohio, from duty on the Raum investigating committee, on the ground that Mr. Smyser owned stock in Raum's refrigerator enterprise, which played so prominent a part in the investigation. At Mr. Smyser's request he was relieved from duty on the committee. The speaker said he had had no knowledge of Mr. Smyser's connection with the company.

The house passed, under suspension of the rules, the bill providing for government inspection of coal mines in the territories, senate bill extending criminal jurisdiction of federal courts to the great lakes, senate bill legalizing a bridge across the Missouri river at Lexington, Mo., bill to ratify agreements with the Sac and Fox and Iowa Indians in Oklahoma, and a substitute for the senate bill granting right of way to the Hutchinson and Southern railroad through Indian territory. At 5:40 the house adjourned.

In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The senate met at 10 a. m., but a quorum was lacking for half an hour or more. Mr. Blair wanted to adjourn as it was "Labor Day," a day that he thought ought to be universally observed.

Mr. Hoar thought the day would be better honored by legislation in behalf of labor.

Mr. Blair, taking him at his word, proposed to take up several labor bills that had recently come over from the house. Mr. Aldrich objected to further "buncombe speeches." This incident occurred before the appearance of a quorum and the reading of the journal.

The tariff bill was then taken up.

Trying to Force Legislation.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—H. T. Collins, a member of the New York Grant monument committee, yesterday telegraphed to Representatives Flower, Belden and Quinn, that if the Plumb resolution looking to the removal of the Grant remains to Arlington was not acted upon at once, the plans for the monument in New York would be adopted.

Huston Will Not Resign.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—United States Treasurer Huston has returned to Washington from a short visit to his home in Indiana. He says that the rumor that he is about to resign is revived probably by Democrats, who desire to make discord between the president and himself, and he added that he is too good a Republican to gratify them in that respect.

Nothing Official.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—Acting Secretary of State Wharton has received a telegram from the agent of the state department at San Francisco saying that no official news was received in the Honolulu mail which reached San Francisco on Saturday. The opinion prevails at the department that the story of a revolution on the island was unfounded.

Death Sentence Commuted.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The president has commuted to imprisonment for life, at hard labor, the death sentence of John Ward, convicted in Wisconsin on charge of rape and sentenced to be hanged on the 26th inst.

Six Incendiary Fires.

SINGLE TAX CONVENTION.

Representatives From Thirty-Two States Meet in New York City.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The large hall in Cooper institute was crowded yesterday afternoon at the opening of the National Single Tax convention; 220 delegates, representing single tax chiefs from thirty-two states and the District of Columbia were present. William T. Croasdale called the convention to order. H. Martin Williams, of St. Louis, was elected permanent chairman.

James Maguire, of San Francisco, was the first speaker. Referring to the recent strike on the New York Central road, Judge Maguire said that the company was in fault. Henry George, he declared, wielded a greater influence than did any living man of the century.

On being introduced Mr. George was greeted with deafening applause. He came back, he said, with the assurance that they were on the march to victory. To-morrow was theirs. The speaker said that freedom was not in this country but she was coming.

Mr. George declared himself in favor of the Federation of all English speaking races and pronounced the single tax idea to be the panacia for the political evils of the time. Ballot reform he considered a movement in the right direction.

Committees on resolutions and platform and addresses were then announced. Mr. George being made chairmag of the latter committee.

CHICAGO CARPENTERS.

The Long Threatened Strike Takes Place Hundreds Out.

CHICAGO, Sept. 2.—The long threatened carpenters' strike took place today. By the order of the council, all union carpenters are called out with a few exceptions. The men working on the public schools will not be interfered with, and those working for bosses who are willing to pay the thirty-seven and one-half cents an hour called for by the agreement entered into last May, will be allowed to continue.

All others are reported to be determined to make another fight, and from present indications the fight will be a long and bitter one. The men say that in the event of failure they will strike again next spring and keep on striking until the bosses will recognize their demands and deign to treat with them in a friendly spirit.

THE CENTRAL TROUBLE.

A Question the State Board of Arbitration Will Meet.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The meeting of the state board of arbitration to-day will face the legal question of its existence as a state commission. Joseph H. Choate, the well known lawyer, has been chosen to represent the interests of the railroad company.

His first move will be to argue lack of jurisdiction in the investigation on the ground that the board's term of office legally expired in November last, and that no provision was made allowing the incumbents to hold over until successors are appointed. Mr. Choate appears as special counsel with Mr. Loomis, the lawyer in charge of the legal business of the railroad company.

Excursionists Robbed.

DUNKIRK, N. Y., Sept. 2.—The Dunkirk, Allegheny and Pittsburg excursion train from Lillydale Sunday was the scene of a bold robbery. When the train stopped at the station a general rush for seats was made. M. F. V. Jackson, of Grand Rapids, Mich., had just seated himself when he was grabbed by two men. One held him while the other took his pocketbook. Both men disappeared in the crowd. The robbery was done so quickly that Jackson had no time to make any outcry. At the same time Mrs. John Stape, of Dunkirk, who was in the next car ahead, was robbed of a pocketbook containing $100, in the same manner. A jewelry store in Lillydale was also robbed of $450 worth of goods.

Hotel Burned—Three Lives Lost.

COMO, Cal., Sept. 2.—The Walford house was burned yesterdry morning. The fire started in a room occupied by an invalid who, it is supposed, upset the lamp. Three persons were burned to death. How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for Dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

WANTED BUT ONE FLAG.

A German Flag Pulled Down, Torn Into Shreds and Trampled On.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 1.—The German flag was pulled down, torn to shreds and trampled under foot yesterday afternoon in Allegheny by Jr. O. U. A. M. men. It was carried by the bakers' contingent in the labor parade. At Arch street and North avenue, one aid was prevailed upon by some influential members of the Jr. O. U. A. M. to order the obnoxious flag hauled down. The bearer refused and raised the banner higher and unfurled it to the winds.

The aid rode off and the spectators began to jeer. There were a large number of Junior Order men around and they were particularly incensed. They called back the aid and insisted that the German flag be removed. The officer thus urged rode into the ranks and took hold of the banner. He tried to take it away from the men who carried it, but the men in the ranks quickly surrounded the aid and essayed to beat him off. Policeman Diebold, of the Allegheny force, dashed into the thick of the fight and beat the horse and rider with his mace. For a time it seemed that the champions of the flag would win. Therefore the Jr. O. U. A. M. men, who had encouraged the aides to remove the flag, took part. Canes and fists were used, resulting in black eyes and torn clothes. Policeman Diebold was roughly handled.

Despite the efforts of the bakers and the policemen the flag came down. The Junior Order men secured the banner, and in about a minute all semblance to a country's emblem was gone. The silk was torn to shreds and the men trampled them under foot. Having won the victory they shouted, "America for Americans," "The stars and stripes the only banner on our streets," and other patriotic sentiments. They retired, and the bakers closed up their ranks and proceeded on their way, but they were angry and will not cool down for some time. They threaten vengeance. No arrests were made.

"Don't Care to Eat."

It is with the greatest confidence that Hood's Sarsaparilla is recommended for loss of appetite, indigestion, sick headache, and similar troubles. This medicine gently tones the stomach, assists digestion, and makes one "real hungry." Persons in delicate health, after taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a few days, find themselves longing for and eating the plainest food with unexpected relish.

THERE is a lack of system about the arrangements for the reunion that must be held accountable for some of the things lacking in making it what it should be. Though announcements are always free, the press has been furnished not one single fact in advance, and the Marion people knew but little of what was to come. Had they thought that so many of the veterans were to have been here today the decorations would have been profuse and Marion would have shown greater hospitality.

The veterans are always welcome here—Marion delights to have them here, but the public ought to have enough information to show some way for proceedure. The crowd is surprisingly large under the circumstances, and we trust all the anticipations of a splendid reunion are being enjoyed.

THE canvass for probate judge has not ended with the democratic nomination. The Republicans are bestiring themselves and propose to take a little interest in the election. It is believed that a candidate of greater competency and general fitness will attract the favorable consideration of voters this fall.

MORE BURGLARIES.

Ed. Molloy's Grocery and DeWolfe's Office Entered this Morning.

Burglars again raided the grocery and saloon of Ed. Malloy, on north Main street, this morning, but did not secure much, being probably frightened away. Between 1 and 2 o'clock Policeman Masterson, while making his rounds, found the side door at Malloy's open. The policeman summoned assistance and entered the store, but the burglars were gone, and it is thought they had been frightened away but a few minutes before, as a liveryman had been putting up a horse at the stable, which is in the next building, at about that time. A heavy monkey-wrench and other tools were found in the store, and a bottle of gin and two large rocks were left on the bar. The knob of the safe had been twisted off, but the safe was not opened. It is thought that it was local talent that did the job. An entrance was gained in the same manner as about ten days ago, by prying open the shutter of the side window. About $1 in change was all that was secured, that being taken from the till.

The office at S. E. DeWolf's grain warehouse was also entered by prying off the shutter to the north window. About $2 in change was taken here. Books and papers taken from the safe, which is always left unlocked, were strewn over the floor, but nothing of consequence was stolen.

Lew Shaddeker, the Wells-Fargo express driver, encountered two or three suspicious characters Monday night. Lew was working at the transfer office as a substitute and while at work was surprised by the men bursting in on him. They were asked what they wanted, and replied that they wanted to warm. They were covered with a large revolver and ordered out and were not long in going.

The Reunion.

The old soldiery of Morrow, Delaware, Union and Marion counties was well represented at the reunion here today. An imposing parade of the G. A. R. posts present occurred at 11:30, conspicuous in which was Commander P. H. Dowling, of the G. A. R. of Ohio, General W. H. Gibson and Chas. McElroy. These gentlemen addressed the veterans at Music Hall this afternoon.

A camp fire will be held at Music Hall tonight, at which general speaking will take place.

—Rev. W. E. Thomas left this morning to attend a meeting of the Marion Presbytery and Sunday school institute, at Kilbourne, Ohio, today and Wednesday. In the absence of Rev. Kelsey, Rev. Thomas will deliver the opening sermon of the meeting this evening.

—Michael Campbell, an aged citizen of Salt Rock township, died at his home at Brush Ridge, eight miles north of Marion, Monday forenoon. Mr Campbell was 78 years of age and an old resident of the county. The funeral will take place Wednesday at 10 o'clock.

—James Owen, the Claridon merchant, is quite dangerously ill at his home in that place. Dr. Hamilton of Columbus, was called in consultation in his case this week. Mr Owen has been sick about a month and has been constantly growing worse.

—Willie Jones, Trent Kerr, Kay Livingston and Claude Walters left this morning for Kenton, Ohio, where they have a phonograph and shadow gallery at the fair.

CITY LEGISLATION.

THE MONTHLY SESSION OF THE COUNCIL TRANSACTS SOME BUSINESS

But Informal Discussion was the Feature of the Meeting—Pearl Street to Be Extended and Other Street Work. The Last of the Police Fight.

The members of the city council rather surprised themselves Monday evening by commencing its session promptly at eight o'clock. Fairbanks and Saiter were absent at roll call, but they dropped in later, in ample time to vote on any important measure.

The minutes were read and finally approved but not without the objection of Roberts and Blake, who voted against the adoption and also argued their objection. The point raised was that five members could not legally suspend the rules and pass the resolution appointing deputy marshals, and the objection was well taken. Solicitor Scofield was appealed to and he decided, of course, that it was all right, for Mr. Scofield has the charming ability to construe the law to suit the emergency. So the adoption was made by a vote of five to two, Kling not voting.

Street and alley business came first and the legislature passed a popular measure in a hurry. It was the resolution to construct new sidewalks in accordance with the new ordinance, and order new six foot stone walks on the north side of east Center from the Bartram property east to Mr. Merchant's home, and plank walks on south West street, Silver street and Pearl street; also new stone walks on the Busby corner. The new walks are to be ordered at once.

Dr Gailey here interrupted the proceedings and made a formal offer of $25 for the City Hall for three nights of Fair week. The council voted to let him have it at that price and the ex-mayor departed with a smile of happiness over his good fortune in getting a contract of that little profitable business.

Street and alley business was resumed by the reading of a petition to open Leader street, which extends north from the railroads to Silver street, on south from the railroads to Center street. The petition set forth that the street extension would open a new and valuable thoroughfare and make some real estate accessible that is wholly excluded now. The petition was referred to the street and alley committee.

Property owners on Davids and Hayes streets asked for some street grading, needed culverts and orders for sidewalks. Their prayer was also referred.

Crossings were ordered at the intersection of Elm and east south street, and on Cherry street.

The plat of John Cunningham's Garden City addition was presented for acceptance, and upon recommendation of the committee the necessary ordinance of acceptance was passed.

The petition for the Pearl street extension south to Bellefontaine avenue came up again with additional names to the list, and a resolution to make the necessary condemnations for the opening was read the necessary times and passed. The expense of the extension will be assessed upon the property holders on the west side of extended Pearl.

Here a long informal talk followed on various topics. Among the important things were Mr Fetler's report of progress on sewer construction and the announced determination to hurry the completion of repairs on the streets. The talk ended in the passage of a resolution to purchase 400 yards of unscreened, crushed stone at 50 cents per yard, and 370 yards of screened crushed stone at 60½ cents per yard. Fairbanks and Saiter voting against the resolution as usual.

The usual batch of bills were paid after some objection to the police bills, and the report of Treasurer Fetler was read. This report shows a balance on hand of $4,[illegible], have received from the county treasurer $9,[illegible] and paid orders during the month of $4,[illegible].

The council will meet next week Monday evening.

—Adam Rice has begun the erection of a new dwelling house on east South street, east of Sargent street.

—Albert Morris, foreman at Norris & Christian's lime kiln, is walking rather heavy. It's a girl baby and was born this morning.

—Charles Borneman, an employe at the Huber shops, is lying dangerously ill with typhoid fever, at his home on north Greenwood street.

A Dry Goods Clerk Doctor.

The big medical men of Vienna have just been thrown into a panic by the discovery that for sixteen months they have been allowing a young dry goods clerk to treat patients in the large city hospital. The clerk's name is Patroner. He got his position in the hospital by means of forged diplomas. During the day he sold thread and ribbons, and at night he made the round of his ward. He had never studied medicine, and is therefore supposed to be responsible for any number of deaths. The swindle was discovered in consequence of his arrest for forgery and embezzlement in his dry goods business. He is in jail.—Paris Letter.

The elevated railways in Brooklyn are all resisting taxation. Some of their officers say openly that the roads should not be taxed until they are on a paying basis, others complain of over assessment. Their scheme is said to be to delay paying taxes until the latter accumulate to a very large sum of money, when they would expect to come in and compromise on the basis of a handsome reduction.

Elango Vettori, an Italian padrone of New York, deserves the whipping post more than any man recently heard of. He not only cruelly beat the little Italian girls whom he sent out to beg when they came back without the amount he thought they ought to bring, but disfigured their shoulders and backs with grotesque tattooing, so that if they ran away he could identify them.

Capt. Ebenezer Morgan, popularly known as "Rattler" Morgan, who died a few days ago, took into Philadelphia some famous cargoes. One of these was after a whaling trip to Greenland in 1861, when he brought home oil that is said to have sold for nearly $150,000, and another, a sealing trip to Alaska, that netted more than twice that to the parties concerned.

A French company has just obtained a concession from the Russian government for the setting up of a telephone between St. Petersburg, Moscow, Warsaw and Berlin. The charge for using this telephone is to be two rubles the first minute, and a ruble for every minute after.

Until this year R. H. Barham has held the distinction of being the only person of his name enrolled in the Boston directory. He came there in 1842, and since then no other man named Barham, which is a common name in England, has been a resident of Boston.

R. L. Leech and Miss Susie Simmons, of Washington Court House, were married in the old John Brown fort at Harper's Ferry Saturday by Rev. James Lawson. This is the first marriage that ever occurred in that historic building.

The Hungarian miner who sold his wife for $100—$25 in cash and the balance at the rate of $6 a month—gave the matrimonial plan a new and startling application.

Peculiar

Many peculiar points make Hood's Sarsaparilla superior to all other medicines. Peculiar in combination, proportion, and preparation of ingredients, Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the full curative value of the best known remedies of the vegetable kingdom. Peculiar in its strength and economy—Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only medicine of which can truly be said, "One Hundred Doses One Dollar." Medicines in larger and smaller bottles require larger doses, and do not produce as good results as Hood's. Peculiar in its medicinal merits, Hood's Sarsaparilla accomplishes cures hitherto unknown, and has won for itself the title of "The greatest blood purifier ever discovered." Peculiar in its "good name at home,"—there is now more sold in Lowell, where it is made, than of all other blood purifiers. Peculiar in its phenomenal record of sales abroad, no other preparation has ever attained such popularity in so short a time, and retained its popularity and confidence among all classes of people so steadfastly.

CONSUMPTION,

IN its first stages, can be successfully checked by the prompt use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Even in the later periods of that disease, the cough is wonderfully relieved by this medicine.

"I have used Ayer's Cherry Pectoral more than any other in my practice. This wonderful preparation once saved my life. I had a constant cough, night sweats, was greatly reduced in flesh, and given up by my physician. One bottle and a half of the Pectoral cured me."—A. J. Eidson, M. D., Middleton, Tennessee.

"Several years ago I was severely ill. The doctors said I was in consumption, and that they could do nothing for me, but advised me, as a last resort, to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. After taking this medicine two or three months I was cured, and my health remains good to the present day."—James Birchard, Darien, Conn.

"Several years ago, on a passage home from California, by water, I contracted so severe a cold that for some days I was confined to my state-room, and a physician on board considered my life in danger. Happening to have a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, I used it freely, and my lungs were soon restored to a healthy condition. Since then I have invariably recommended this preparation."—J. B. BROKEN OUT!

How often do we see this on the faces of children and, alas, of people who otherwise are healthy? What causes it? Bad Blood. The thought is terrible: the trouble is worse. No ordinary help can remove it. It requires something unusual. Do not take cheap sarsaparillas or blood purifiers. You must have something that has proven its power in both Europe and America. General Wheatcroft Nelson, of London, says: "My experience in the English army, as well as in America, convinces me that nothing so thoroughly purifies the blood, or adds to the health, vigor and life, as Dr. Acker's English Blood Elixir."

This grand Elixir is sold by druggists in all parts of America. It is a good, pure, honest medicine. Try it to-day.

MYSTIC MISCELLANY.

GOSSIP OF ALL KINDS FROM THE FRATERNAL SOCIETIES.

A Bit from the History of the Knights of the Tented Tarabees and a Sketch and Portrait of the Great Commander of Michigan.

Fraternal societies have triumphed over adverse circumstances as thoroughly as has the order of the Knights of the Tented Tarabees. The order was originated in London, Ont., in 1878, and for a time enjoyed great prosperity. But there were certain defects in the plans of its organizers which might have proved fatal. Reorganization was necessary and was effected in Buffalo in 1886. This caused a split, which has however been happily healed. Probably more credit is due Mr. N. S. Boynton, S. and G. record keeper, than to any other man for the order's present prosperity.

The present great commander of Michigan is Hon. D. P. Markey, of West Branch. Mr. Markey is a lawyer, a native of Ingham county, Mich., where he was born in 1857. He began clerking before he could see over the counter. When he became old enough to take the dust out of a boy's pants he taught school, then kept books, not his own, but a firm's by which he was employed. It was slow work for a man born to progress, and he swapped the desk for a law stool in the law office of Jerome C. Knowlton. When he had scattered the dust off the books he was admitted to practice and associated himself with De Vere Hall to practice law and sell real estate, and they do a great deal of both. He has been a circuit court commissioner, a judge of probate, a state legislator and speaker of the house. In the order of Maccabees his career has been marked by just such a rapid ascent, but he eventually dropped into the hole that fitted him when he became the executive official. Whatever is done for the order's advancement bears his imprint. It is altogether probable that he will be promoted still higher at the next session of the great tent.

HON. D. P. MARKEY.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

The Order Is Booming in Massachusetts. Other Items.

A circular issued by the grand lodge of Massachusetts states that the returns for the last six months indicate an increase for that jurisdiction of K. of P. more than double that of any corresponding term, and the financial condition of the subordinate lodges shows a similar growth.

Among the queries put to the grand chancellor (L. L. Tarbell) is one that was evidently a "poser." He was asked, "If a member whose only avocation is a gentleman should break his arm would he be entitled to benefits?" Answer: "Is he able to pursue his usual avocation? Let the constitution govern you." The G. C. should have referred the question to the supreme lodge. Is not a broken armed gentleman a gentleman still?

The uniform rank has about 25,000 sir knights—nearly as many as the standing army of the United States.

Pennsylvania still remains, numerically, the banner Pythian grand jurisdiction, having over 40,000 knights and a handsome sum in its exchequer.

At Scranton, Kan., recently the twin sons of Bro. Thomas Noble were clothed Damon and Pythias with impressive ceremonies in the lodge room.

Arkansas has fifty-four lodges and thirteen divisions.

There are at present about 260,000 members in the order.

There are two sections of the endowment rank in Honolulu, Sandwich Islands.

The lodges in Indianapolis have an aggregate membership of 2,000, and the lodges have all the work they can do.

The richest lodge in Indiana is Crescent lodge, No. 33, of New Castle, the total resources of which are $7,787.15. The next wealthiest lodge is Indianapolis, No. 26, with assets aggregating $5,093.05. The last named is the banner lodge in point of membership in Indiana, having on Dec. 31 351 knights on its roll.

R. E. Lee lodge, of Vicksburg, Miss., has a membership of 204, and is worth $2,816.46.

Capt. Lawrence Cole, a prominent ranchman and a Pythian Knight of Mexico, is asking the aid of the knights in Texas to establish lodges in Mexico.

Total Disbursements of the Beneficiary Fund—Notes.

The total disbursements of the beneficiary fund during the twenty-one years of the order's existence up to the close of the last fiscal year amounted to $28,858,165.58. By this amount was paid 14,305 death losses, that number of families having been benefited by the A. O. U. W. The total disbursements of the beneficiary fund of all the jurisdictions for the year 1889 makes a grand total of $4,153,763.28. The total number of death losses during the year was 2,049.

There are 3,859 lodges of the order according to the report of the supreme recorder, making an increase of 241 for the last fiscal year.

The increase in the number of lodges in each jurisdiction during the past year was as follows: New York, 37; Ontario, 31; Maryland, New Jersey and Delaware, 22; Kansas, 21; Michigan, 20; Nebraska, 14; Massachusetts, 13; Georgia, Alabama, North Carolina, South Carolina and Florida, 12; Texas, 11; Missouri, 9; Illinois, 8; Dakota, 8; Ohio, 6; Pennsylvania, 5; Indiana 4; Iowa, 2; Wisconsin, 1; Oregon and Washington, 1.

Illinois disbursed $56,000 from the beneficiary fund during the past month, of which amount $30,000 was paid on fifteen deaths in Chicago.

The supreme lodge has fixed the maximum number of assessments for Illinois at twenty-five. Several of the other jurisdictions have had their maximum increased.

The proposition to grant permission to New Jersey to become a separate grand jurisdiction at this time was deemed inexpedient by the supreme lodge and was voted down.

Two hundred and thirty-nine thousand two hundred and ninety-one new men in good standing in the A. O. U. W. on June 1, 1890—a gain of 1,711 during the month of May.

The Oldest Outside Guardian and Other Matters.

M. J. L. writes to Odd Fellows' Siftings and claims for Lafayette lodge, No. 18, of Philadelphia, the oldest outside guardian in any jurisdiction. He is Bro. Benjamin Bickerton, who was initiated into Lafayette lodge, No. 18, Jan. 1, 1838, and has therefore been a member of the lodge for nearly fifty-five years. During this time he has faithfully performed the duties of outside guardian for forty-nine years, with less than a dozen nights absence from his post during this long period. Bro. Bickerton, who has passed the allotted age of man (three score years and ten), is still as active as most men at 40, and bids fair to add many more years to the long term he has already so faithfully served.

There is a movement in Illinois to abolish the lodge system of representation to the grand lodge, and to substitute the district system for the same. The object is to make the grand lodge more effective by reducing the representation, which now consists of a[bout] 700 members, and also to cut down the expense, which averages about $3,000 a year.

Bro. A. D. Sanders says Illinois does not want an orphans' home; each lodge is the guardian of its dependent widows and orphans.

New York city has 83 lodges working in the German and 52 in the English language. There are also 4 Bohemian, 1 Danish, 1 French and 1 Swedish.

The annual report of the grand encampment of Utah says that the gain in membership for the year ended March 31, 1890, was 49. The total number of members is 242.

The grand master of Ohio is allowed $3,500 for expenses to visit the lodges. The grand master of the state of New York is allowed $250 for the same purpose.

There are now about forty-five Odd Fellows' insurance companies, from which the income last year approximated $1,669,023.97.

The Indian territory is to have a grand lodge.

Recent Odd Fellows' statistics foot up the number of white Odd Fellows on the globe at 1,341,279.

The are now 581 cantons, with a total membership approximating 25,000 chevaliers. At the present rate of growth the P. M. army will number about 27,000 by the time of the cantonment at Chicago.

There are eighty-three lodges of the Rebekah degree in Massachusetts; receipts for the year, $2,142.30; disbursements, $2,020.30.

California has 352 lodges, Oregon 93 and Nevada 32.

Indiana gained 1,039 during the year.

British Columbia has on an average 100 members to a lodge; Connecticut, 171; District of Columbia, 108; Maine, 143; Massachusetts, 183; New Hampshire, 130; Pennsylvania, 87; Rhode Island, 122. Pennsylvania, however, has nearly a thousand lodges, while Ohio, the next highest, has only 676, and Illinois 669. Pennsylvania has 84,080 members; the next highest jurisdiction, Ohio, has 49,267.

Secret Societies in New York.

There is published in New York a journal called The Lodge, Club and Association Record. It gives the addresses of the various lodges of the secret societies with the names and addresses of their officers, etc. There are nearly 2,000 lodges of about fifty different orders mentioned, besides three or four times as many non-secret organizations.

The Masons are credited with 182 English lodges, 21 German, 2 Italian, 1 Spanish, 3 French, 23 Royal Arch chapters, 9 commanderies Knights Templar, 4 temples Scottish Rite, 3 royal and select masters subordinate councils, 1 temple Mystic Shrine, 6 chapters order of the Eastern Star; total, 205. The I. O. O. F. has 54 English lodges, 81 German, 2 French, 4 Bohemian, 1 Swedish, 1 Danish, 28 encampments Patriarchs militant, 17 Rebecca degree lodges; total, 188. The American Legion of Honor has 61 English lodges and 29 German; total, 90. Chosen Friends—English, 36; German, 11; Scandinavian, 2; total, 49. Knights of Pythias—English, 42; German, 13; French, 3; total, 53. Royal Arcanum, 27; United Friends, 81; Iron Hall, 19; Good Templars, 8; Knights and Ladies of the Golden Star, 20; Red Men, 19; Legion of Justice, 28; Various Jewish societies, 167; Select Guardians, 5; Good Fellows, 15; Sons of Hermann, 25. There are other societies represented to have small memberships which are in other parts of the country very popular. This, by the way, offers an interesting question. Why should a society have a large membership in one locality and be practically unknown in another, even though both fields have received attention from the organizers?

Knights of Canada.

The cost of management for the last year, including salaries, rent, postage, printing, cost of annual session, etc, was only about $3,600, and the individual cost to the members was at the rate of $5.50 per $1,000, being equal to eleven assessments of $1 each. Dr. King, the medical director of the society, reports having examined 1,244 applications during the year, and approving of 1,153 of these. The average age of the members admitted was 35.13 years, being a reduction of the average compared with 1888 of 5.65 years.

The rate of mortality for the past year was 4.50 per 1,000, being less by 1 per 1,000 than is the very low death rate of the parent order, the A. O. U. W.

Sons of Hermann.

The fiftieth anniversary of the order was duly celebrated by a large number of the German citizens of St. Paul and Minneapolis. The first lodge of "Hermannssoehne" organized in St. Paul was the Washington lodge, No. 1, which began its existence Aug. 20, 1870. Since then the order has grown rapidly in the city and in the state in general, until now Minnesota leads all the other states in point of membership. It is a benevolent order similar to the A. O. U. W. in its object.

United Friends.

Of the twenty-five deaths on the last assessment call one was in Massachusetts, one in New Jersey, one in Maine, two in Pennsylvania and twenty in New York.

Order of Equity.

During the month of April nearly $3,000 was paid out in benefits, and the funds of the order show a large increase.

P. O. S. of A.

There has been an increase of 50 per cent. in the membership in Ohio, as shown by the last semi annual reports.

AN ORIGINAL HOME.

A House Made to Order to Fit a Particular Family.

There are many good reasons why each person who builds should want a house different from his neighbor's, both as to arrangement and external appearance. This is true, independent of cost.

Take the case of the plan which is herewith selected.

The lady says: "We want a hall not too large, and one from that a living room in front. This living room should be large. We have some books, a piano, a lounge and other living room furniture. We want to feel at home in this room; it is our own room. Removed from this we want a room where we can be formal if we wish. Now what we want is a nicely furnished reception room at the back end of the hall."

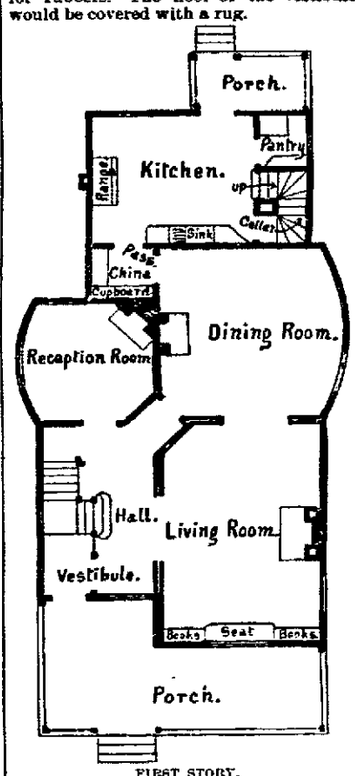
This reception room, small as it is, may be made very cozy and attractive, and the caller, under any circumstances, would feel that she had been duly honored through the influence of so pleasant and attractive a room. The hall arrangement is a little unusual. The doorway is on the same side as the stairs. There is a vestibule surrounded by spindle work. The vestibule is formed in the hall partially by the stairway. A hat rack would be formed next to it by inserting brass hooks and pegs into the proper framework forming the spindle screen. Below would be a small table, an umbrella stand and a place for rubbers. The floor of the vestibule would be covered with a rug.



FIRST STORY.

The dining room and kitchen arrangement are not particularly new. There is the china closet, with the glass doors above and the paneled doors below, the table under the window and the double swing doors separating the kitchen from the dining room. In the kitchen there are properly arranged sink, drain board and table; convenient thereto is the range.

The stairways to the cellar and rear part of the house from the kitchen are shown. The pantry would be better if it were extended out under the porch, in that it would be larger.

The second story of this house is good. The rooms are large, the wall space is ample and their relation to one another is proper.

There are five chambers and seven closets of good proportions. There is also a storeroom. The rear part of the house—the girls' room, the storeroom and the stairway to the attic—is separated from the front part by a door. Four other rooms and the bathroom are in front of this doorway. The front chamber connects with the bedroom over the hall.

SECOND STORY.

The bathroom in any house is a convenience that can never be overestimated.

The cost of this building is indicated by the annexed schedule:

Building	$3,200
Privy vaults	40
Cistern connections	60
Walks	50
Illuminating gas pipe	25
Plumbing	250
Gas fixtures	50
Five mantels and grates (average cost, $50)	250
Furnace	225
Electric work (door bell and kitchen bell)	30
Total	$4,180

LOUIS H. GIBSON.

Not Half Warm Enough for Him.

"Warm!" he said, putting on a heavy pair of gloves and buttoning his light overcoat, "you don't call this warm weather, do you?"

"Do I call it warm?" said the other, mopping his brow and trying to fan himself at the same time, while his face grew redder and redder. "I call it gridiron heat."

"Pooh, pooh, my dear fellow; the mercury isn't above ninety-two."

"Ninety-two!"

"And it hasn't been above a hundred more than once this year."

"Shades of all the Icelanders!" cried the red fat man, "what would you like to have it—135 in the shade? Would you like to boil eggs in the public fountains? Do you want foundries to run their furnaces without fire? One hundred! Do you want to sizzle and vanish in steam. One hundred!" he screamed in shrill agonized tones, and he danced around madly in his wrath until his face was of flaming scarlet. "One hundred! Why, man, haven't you got any blood in your veins?"

"Oh, yes," said the other, shivering as a warm breeze touched him, "but I have 40,000 tons of ice cornered."

And then the little stout man fell in a swoon and an ambulance carried him to the hospital, where he was recorded as suffering from prostration by heat, while the ice king went home to order the servants to put more coal on the fire.—New York Tribune.

A Cruel Indignity.

"I beg your pardon, madam, for intruding upon you at meal time," he said politely, "but may I ask you for a little salt?"

The lady brought him a salt box. He looked at it meditatively and leaned against one of the pillars of the porch.

"It is a foolish habit I have got into," he said, in an apologetic way, "and I dare say you will consider it one of questionable taste, but I always eat salt on my watermelon."

"But you haven't any watermelon," said the lady of the house.

"Thank you kindly for suggesting it," answered the seedy looking tourist gratefully. "Shall I eat the melon out here?"

"I don't see how you can. We have no watermelon today."

"No watermelon at all in the house?"

"None."

"Then, madam," said the caller, in the tone of an injured man, "permit me to return the salt. I will not say I am angry, but I am hurt—deeply hurt. You have raised my expectations and cruelly disappointed them. I leave you, madam, to your own reflections."

He made a low bow, handed back the salt box with the air of a king declining a dukedom, and two minutes later he was on the back porch at the next neighbor's asking for a little horse radish.—Chicago Tribune.

He Did Not Get Much Satisfaction.

Quizzicus—How's business?

Manufacturer—Dull.

Quizzicus—Shirts not going well?

Manufacturer—Not very. At least, mine are not.

Quizzicus—Going to get out of the business?

Manufacturer—Heavens, no! What gave you that idea?

Quizzicus—But you are losing, you say?

Manufacturer—Yes.

Quizzicus—Then what are you making by staying in the business?

Manufacturer—Shirts, you idiot.—Clothier and Furnisher.

Judging from Appearances.

Thin Person—Mr. Cleaver, I think I'll trade with you hereafter. I've been buying my meat from the butcher across the way.

Cleaver—Well, you look it!—Munsey's Weekly.

She Was Ready for Him.

"Now show me the cow that gives the buttermilk," said young Dolley facetiously to the pretty milkmaid.

"Oh, we don't get that from the cow," replied the girl. "That comes from the goat."—Munsey's Weekly.

Unreasonable.

A hardened bachelor thus replied to the criticisms of some friends who upbraided him for not taking a wife: "You certainly could not expect me to marry a woman who'd be foolish enough to have me."—Judge.

"What did they do?"

"Buried him just as he died. It was a perfect fit."—New York Herald.

"No. Why should we? He didn't run us into an iceberg or strike Fastnet."—Chatter.

Her Tea Gown.

In 'witching gown of dainty pink
(To match her blushes,)
Preparing the seductive drink
Bohea, midst plushes,
Old rugs and bric-a-brac was she:
A recollection
That is the very pink, to me,
Of sweet perfection.

'Twas surely not her tea has made
My vision rosy.
That now couleur de rose arrayed
Life seems less prosy.
And this to tell her I incline
This very minute:
I wish that dainty gown were mine—
And she within it!

—H. E. W. in Life.

HE SPOKE TOO LATE.

He was a pastor of high repute:
That she was a beauty none could dispute.
He loved her dearly, yet loved in vain,
For he dared not tell her his longing pain.

But when, at the close of church one day,
She asked his escort a part of the way,
His heart beat high, and he almost thought
He'd be able to plead for the love he sought.

"I've a favor to ask," the maiden said,
As she blushed and drooped her lovely head;
"I wish to know if you'll marry me
In church next Tuesday at half past three."

"That's just what I wanted to ask," he said,
"And now we'll hasten each other to wed"——
"Oh, no!" she cried, "that was not my plan;
You must marry me to another man!"

—New York Herald.

Punctuation's Power.

The journalistic Warwick is not confined entirely to the editorial room. Frequently the compositor, humbly but always efficaciously, takes a hack at that sort of thing. Recently he took possession of a piece of copy which included the name "Thomas Burton King, of Georgia." But by the dexterous and timely transposition of a comma he made the gentleman "Thomas Burton, King of Georgia," and he would retain the rank now had not the proof reader stepped in and mildly but firmly shoved the comma over.—Washington Post.

Harmony.

Hennypeck—Have you got a dye that will change the hair and beard to a delicate ecru?

Druggist—No, sir. Why, may I ask, do you wish to dye in that peculiar shade?

Hennypeck—Well, you see my wife has had the library decorated in that shade, and she thinks I don't harmonize with it.—Chicago Tribune.

Midsummer Madness.

Wagg—Hello, Wallace, you're quite a stranger. Been away on a long trip west, I understand?

Wallace—Yes, my boy, I've had quite a journey. I've been out to Seattle.

Wagg—You don't say so. And was Attle glad to see you, old man?—Somerville Journal.

A Sordid Explanation.

Mr. Mercenary Batchelor—I love my wife more than ever I thought a man of my age and habits was capable of loving a woman.

Charley Sensley—She must have been a good deal richer than you thought she was, I guess.—Washington Star.

How to Do It.

"What is necessary when you wish to beat a retreat?" asked an old military man at Fort Washington.

"I suppose you'd have to retreat faster than the other fellows," was the reply that came after some deliberation.—Washington Post.

During the Cross Examination.

Lawyer—The murdered man was shot in the cardiac region, I believe.

Honest Witness—No, sir; he was shot in the Adirondack region, on the Indian carry, between the Raquette river and upper Saranac lake.—Somerville Journal.

A Sacrifice to Science.

Our Gallant Boarder—May I ask where you are going, Miss Wendover?

Our Intellectual Boarder—Certainly, Mr. Allibone; I am going after a few geological and botanical specimens.

Our Gallant Boarder—I shall be delighted to go with you and carry the basket, Miss Wendover.

(Two hours later.)

Our Intellectual Boarder—Now, Mr. Allibone, we will look for a good large piece of clouded red sandstone, and then I think we will return.—Puck.

A Doubtful Compliment.

Poet—Oddjobs, what do you think of my latest poem?

Oddjobs—Splendid, my dear boy, splendid. I consider it beautiful. But then, you know, I'm no judge.—New York Sun.

An Indefinite Term.

A SAD WARNING

Young John Haberman Meets His Death by Jumping from a Moving Freight Train on which He Was Riding.

A gang of boys are in the habit of getting off and on moving freight trains while going through this place, and often riding to other points to meet returning trains and ride back. Among these boys was John Haberman, a lad between 14 and 15 years of age, living with his parents near Norris & Christian's lime kiln. His father, John Haberman, who is employed by Norris & Christian, had often warned him against jumping trains, and it is said punished him for an offense of this nature last Saturday.

John, as it is supposed, got on north bound C., H. V. and T. freight No. 57, intending to meet and come back on another freight train, which was at Morral Monday afternoon. On the train with him was three young men from here who were going to Bucyrus. At Acton, a switch and flag station about five miles north of here, young Haberman, as they thought, got off, but they noticed him fall and supposed that perhaps he had gotten hurt by his jump, as the train was going down grade at a terrific speed. On arriving at Morral one of the three young men alighted and told some of the trainmen on the south bound train that a boy had got off a couple of miles back and they thought he had been hurt. Some of the trainmen and a gang of section men started up the track and found his remains in a mutilated condition at Acton.

He was picked up and put on the south bound train and brought here and placed in the baggage room at the C., H. V. and T. depot, until the coroner arrived, who ordered him taken to Frame & Beicher's undertaking establishment, where the remains were prepared for burial.

Upon investigation it was found that his right arm had been completely severed from his body; the hand was also torn from the arm, and the fingers badly mangled. Several large gashes were cut in his head, and his neck was found to have been broken. The accident occurred about 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

His remains were properly cared for, after which he was taken to the home of his parents, where his funeral occurred this afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Observations.

The STAR of Monday the 1st inst. was unusually interesting in editorial paragraphs. Sunday rest seems to agree with the editors. We will not suppose that they sharpen their pencils on Sunday, but only that Sunday rest has given sharper points to their thoughts.

The suggestions as to improving our progressive city are well worthy of consideration by the authorities, and the citizens generally. The sidewalks is a great question, on other streets besides east Center. This is "by the way."

The articles of Miss Search that appear in Saturdays STAR are well worthy of careful reading. There is much information for us who stay at home, as to those far off lands and people. It is very much to the credit of Miss Search that she has been able to reproduce the scenes and events of her journey, so as to give others a vivid conception of what she saw and experienced. To select and reject as to the thoughts and facts she would present has demanded of her care and skill. She shows a disciplined mind as well as pains-taking habits. If any one thinks it easy thus to describe a journey, let him try, and he will be astonished at the demand made on his time and patience, in the preparation of a creditable article. Marion may well be proud of her young traveler and authoress. OBSERVER.

School Enrollment.

The Marion Public Schools opened Monday with an increased attendance, and bright prospects for a successful school year. Following is the enrollment in the various buildings:

Central—Boys, 222; girls, 220; total, 442. East—Boys, 175, girls, 175, total, 350. South—Boys, 67; girls, 59; total, 126. North—Boys, 105; girls, 110; total, 215. The Garden City Pike, East Marion and Loveland buildings have a total of 95 scholars; boys, 43; girls, 52.

It has been found necessary to establish two new D Grammar schools, that department being crowded beyond control. The scholars were dismissed this morning until teachers could be found to take charge of new schools.

Death at Bucyrus.

Lewis H. Flocken received word this morning that his father, M. Flocken, had died at his home in Bucyrus at 11 o'clock Monday night. Mr Flocken had not been feeling well for some time, but Lew had received a letter a short time since stating that all the folks were well, and he naturally supposed his father's health was improving, and his sudden death was a great shock to the son.

Mr Flocken was one of the solid business men of Bucyrus, and was 57th year. He leaves a large family to mourn his death. L. H left for Bucyrus this morning.
